LOWELL RYAN PROJECTS

José Luis Vargas' latest solo exhibition, Este es mi mundo. ¡Entra! (This is My World, Come in!), is currently showing at Lowell Ryan Projects until October 31st. Este es mi mundo. ¡Entra! features nine larger scale free-hanging hand-painted circus banners. Another essential component to the exhibition is two shopping carts assemblages, focusing on found objects. Vargas explores ideas such as legacy and symbolism through the artifacts he has found to construct his realm, where imagination reigns supreme. Blurring the lines between history and fiction, Vargas' travels from London to Mexico City have influenced his history and culture. Inspiring viewers to take the reigns and write their histories.
