Stanley Casselman is a New York based artist whose sumptuously calculated surfaces are motivated by a sense of awe and wonderment in the intangible spiritual elements of our being. Casselman is deeply committed to the notion that color, line and form have the ability to change cognizance. The known and speculative forces that create the lattice of our physical reality are often an undercurrent within his paintings. Baroque yet simplistic, his process reveals itself in a spectrum of layers and strokes exploring a range of emotions in an efficacious search for higher consciousness.

Casselmann (born in Phoenix, AZ) received his Bachelor of Arts from Pitzer College, Claremont, CA. His works have been exhibited nationally and internationally at galleries and museums including Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum, New York, NY; Jim Kempner Fine Art, New York, NY; Gazelli Art House, Baku, Azerbaijan and London, UK; James White Gallery, Beverly Hills, CA; and Brintz Galleries, Palm Beach, FL. His works are part of the collections of the New Orleans Museum of Art, New Orleans, LA; Frederick R. Weisman Art Foundation, Los Angeles, CA; Flint Institute of Arts, Flint, MI; and Borusan Contemporary, Istanbul, among others. Stanley Casselman will be presenting a solo exhibition at Lowell Ryan Projects in the spring of 2021.
