Amy Kim Keeler (Lowell Ryan Projects)

Amy Kim Keeler: Future Jupiter at Lowell Ryan Projects. A suite of 16 small-scaled works made with hand-stitched cotton thread and corrugated cardboard, Keeler's works are precious in their tactility but humble in their meditative ritual. Rather analogous to a walking meditation, these precision yet organic fractally-derived patterns reflect both the ambulations of natural phenomena and the meaningful repetition of mark-making gestures.
